

DETERMINED TO FORCE ISSUESecretary Ballinger on the Way to Washington.

ATTITUDE OF THE CABINET

Will Determine the Course to Be Pursued by the Head of the Interior Department—If His Colleagues Concur in the View Now Attributed to President Taft He Will Remain in Office—If They Fail to Back Up the President Ballinger Will Resign.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Whether Richard A. Ballinger's resignation as secretary of the interior will follow immediately upon the meeting of the cabinet Sept. 26, to attend which he is now en route from Seattle, or whether he will retain his position indefinitely—at least after the delivery to congress of the reports of the committee which investigated his stewardship of the public domain—depends now upon the attitude of his cabinet associates.

Mr. Ballinger is coming to Washington, his friends here insist, wholly unconscious of any act on his part, either of commission or of omission, for which he should be condemned, and has determined to force his chief and his official colleagues to be, in effect, his judges. If they concur in the view at present attributed to Mr. Taft, that the accused secretary shall be sustained as an innocent and persecuted man, he will retain his position; if they fail to so back him up he will resign forthwith. That this, in substance, is Mr. Ballinger's present position was learned here upon authority hardly to be questioned.

At the first meeting of the cabinet after the summer recess Secretary of War Dickinson, the Democratic member, will not have returned from the Philippines and will therefore be saved the embarrassment of participation in what is regarded as largely a problem of Republican policy.

The meeting is expected to last three days and the president expects to clear up a number of important matters, but it will surprise nobody here if the Ballinger case occupies a large part of the time.

Nobody here doubts that a majority—all but one of the Republican members—of the so called Ballinger-Pinchot investigation committee will sustain Secretary Ballinger in its report to congress.

Ballinger Greatly Disappointed.

The views of that majority, which consists of Senators Nelson, Sutherland, Root and Flint and Representatives McCall of Massachusetts, Olmsted of Pennsylvania and Denby of Michigan, to that effect are well known. But Secretary Ballinger and his partisans here were greatly disappointed that the absence of Senators Root and Flint from the Minneapolis meeting left the pro-Ballinger portion of the committee in the minority, and permitted the Democrats and the progressive Republican members to put forth a report condemning him, which for many weeks will stand before the country as the only findings of the committee, whereas he had relied upon the majority for a vindication.

This failure of the committee to take final action, it is said, has determined Secretary Ballinger's course. It was said here by a close friend of the secretary that had the majority of the committee been ready to report at the Minneapolis meeting, he would then have tendered his resignation to the president, and urged its acceptance on the ground that the dissensions to which he has been a party were detrimental to the public interest. When the committee failed at Minneapolis to take action as a whole, and when there was no quorum at the subsequent meeting in Chicago, it became apparent that no decision could be looked for for several months.

This situation is said to have convinced Mr. Ballinger that his position in spite of the continued support of the president, has become untenable. Unable, as he sees it, to resign at either vindicated or condemned by the committee, he has decided, it is said, to demand of his superior and his cabinet associates either vindication or condemnation.

FAVORS WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Democratic Candidate for Governor of Minnesota States His Policy.

Sauk Center, Minn., Sept. 17.—James Gray, Democratic nominee for governor of Minnesota, was loudly applauded when he attacked Cannonism, Ballingerism and Aldrichism at the Stearns county fair here. He also made a vigorous attack on the trusts and big interests and said he was in favor of woman suffrage. He said besides raising pumpkins and rosy faced children Minnesota would raise the devil in the campaign over the tariff bill.

The Real Thing.
Fred, aged three, had been a naughty boy, and his mother had punished him. He felt very much hurt and complained to his aunt about mamma's spanking him. Auntie said, "It is not you that mamma spans, but a little devil inside of you who makes you do naughty things." After sitting very still for five minutes he said, "It beats all how it hurts me when that devil gets spanked."—Delineator.

ORGANIZED FOR CAMPAIGN

North Dakota Republicans Ready for the Contest.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 17.—Republicans of North Dakota are now organized for the campaign, the final plans being made at a meeting of the executive committee and candidates on the state ticket, held in Grand Forks.

Captain Frank Henry of Valley City, who was defeated in the recent primary as the candidate for secretary of state, was named assistant secretary of the central committee, while Otto Strom of Lakota was made secretary of the executive committee. He is the secretary to Congressman A. J. Gronna. The only other appointment made was that of Grant Hager of Grafton as head of the publicity bureau.

Harmony, which has been so evident at recent Republican gatherings in North Dakota, was again the predominant feature of the session. Chairman Frank Halcott was the presiding officer.

One of the interesting features of the session was an address by former Governor J. M. Devine of Minot, in which he told of a communication that he had received from United States Senator Cummins of Iowa. The corn state senator advised North Dakota Republicans to stand by the results of the primary election and support the ticket, no matter which of the factions might get the better of the situation.

CATTLE SHIPMENTS LIGHTER

Stock Owners in North Dakota in No
Hurry to Sell Beef.

Dickinson, N. D., Sept. 17.—The annual shipment of beef cattle from this locality will be somewhat smaller than in former years owing to the fact that farmers are cropping more of their land than heretofore. The native grasses are the equal if not the best in many seasons, and the livestock owners say that cattle, already in splendid condition, will put on fat until the middle of October, and as a rule the late fall prices of beef are best, hence the growers have everything to gain by holding their shipments back.

Livestock buyers from Minnesota have been in the state for a month and have bought many carloads of beef and mutton stuff. The best beef cattle, however, are yet to be shipped and this is usually done by the owners, who like to make to trip once a year to the cities.

Editor Victim of Pellagra.

Salisbury, N. C., Sept. 17.—Stricken two weeks ago with an acute case of pellagra, John M. Julian, an editor and a leader in state politics, died at his home in this city. He had been unconscious since Sunday and despite skillful attention grew gradually worse.

A BAG OF GOLF CLUBS.

They Picture in a Way the Various Phases of Human Society.

Devotees of the links will be interested to learn that, in the opinion of a philosophical student of their ancient game, a bag of golf clubs is a symbolic epitome of human society.

In the front rank you have the driver, smooth, polished, elegant, the aristocrat of the circle, to whose lot falls the showy role in the play's performance, who disdains to play his part on the level of his fellows, and must have his sphere of operations artificially raised above the plane of the common earth. The brassy is your rich commoner, substituting a barrier of metal for the tee that confers rank on his social superior. After these come the humbler creaks, lofters and mashies, the common herd, who, like the butchers, shoemakers, and tillers of the ground among human beings, have the bulk of the work to do, and can afford no polish save what comes from keeping themselves clean, which at times is no easy task. Apart from them all stands the niblick, the good Samaritan of golf, resorted to only when the player is in a serious difficulty. The function of the niblick is to aid the golfer in the day of trouble, and his destiny, after having done his duty in that state of life, is to be relegated to the limbo of forgetfulness.—Argonaut.

He Came Down Light.

A Chicago board of trade man who was not in the habit of attending church was taking a walk one Sunday morning, and on coming to a church at the regular hour of service he decided to go in. As he entered the auditorium in which the pews were adjusted upon a sloping floor an usher stepped forward and, wishing to consult him as to location before conducting him to a sitting, politely inquired:

"Would you like to come down pretty well?"

Mistaking the inquiry to be an appeal for money, the board of trade man began to fumble through his pockets as he drawled:

"I'd like to, but I'm not prepared to come down very heavy, as 15 cents is all I have with me."—Harper's Magazine.

Fell From a Train.

Pierre, S. D., Sept. 17.—The inquest over the remains of Gus Shields developed the fact that his death was caused by his neck being broken by a fall from the train. Just how he got out of the vestibule is not known.

MME. CAVALIERI-CHANLER.

Obtained Valuable Property
From Her American Husband.VALUABLE PROPERTY
DEEDED TO CAVALIERISinger Obtained Fortune From American Husband.

New York, Sept. 17.—The pre-nuptial agreement between Madame Lina Cavaleri, the opera singer, and Robert Winthrop Chanler, the terms of which have been the subject of so many divergent reports of disagreements between the couple, was filed in the register's office by counsel for the singer.

The agreement was made on the last day of May of this year in Paris between Mr. Chanler and the singer, whose first name is given as Netalina, and states that whereas a marriage was about to be solemnized between the two, and that doubts might arise as to their mutual property rights it was agreed that the property of each of them, both present and future, should remain the separate property and under the sole control of each of them.

The agreement then recites that in consideration of the said intended marriage and of the sum of $1 that Mr. Chanler gives to Madame Cavaleri "all those three farms, known respectively as Coe farm, Chowell and Bena farm in Red Hook, N. Y., approximately 350 acres, and subject to a mortgage of $6,000."

The agreement further provides that Mr. Chanler turn over to Madame Cavaleri the land and buildings in New York city situated in several parts of the city, comprising in all thirty pieces of property and concludes "and all other realty forming part of the share of the above named Robert Winthrop Chanler of and in the estate of the late Mrs. Laura Delano, subject to a mortgage of $140,000."

The agreement provides further that Mr. Chanler agrees to pay the yearly sum of $20,000 to Madame Cavaleri during her life, by four quarterly installments of $5,000 a quarter, the first of which shall be paid within thirty days from the marriage.

CHANGES IN BANKING LAWS

Congress May Be Requested to Make Some.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Some important changes in the national banking law may be proposed to the next congress.

One proposed change is to compel newly organized banks to provide a surplus and an absolutely unimpaired capital the day they begin business. Under the present system a national bank with a paid in capital of $25,000 will spend probably $5,000 at the start for fixtures, books and other necessities. That impairs its capital.

The idea is to compel the organizers of a bank to provide a 20 per cent surplus at the start.

There is some talk of trying to increase the efficiency of the national bank examiners by asking congress to create places for supervisory examiners who can superintend the work of the men in the field.

Other plans for the better regulation of national banks, intended to reduce the possibilities of failure, are being considered, and probably will find their way to congress either through the monetary commission or officials of the treasury department.

Give Others a Chance.

It's all right to get more than your share, but don't put your feet in the trough.—Kansas City Journal.

POLITICIANS CALL
ON THE COLONELMany of Them Visit Former President Roosevelt.

WILL NOT MAKE STATEMENT

Taft's Predecessor Declines to Discuss Rumor That There Is Disaffection in the Ranks of His Followers—Old Friend of the Colonel Declares That He Will Vote Against Him.

New York, Sept. 17.—County politicians from all parts of New York state gathered at Theodore Roosevelt's editorial offices to tell him where they stand in the fight now on within the Republican party. The colonel talked from morning till night with leaders on both sides, but as he was leaving at the end of the day the only statement he would make was that he had not a word to say.

Some of those who saw Colonel Roosevelt brought back word that he had been informed of disaffection within his own ranks, but none of them was willing to go on record by name.

George Cromwell, president of the borough of Richmond and a member of the Republican state committee, was the only one who did not hesitate to say where he stood.

"I'm going to vote against Roosevelt," he said. "I have taken that resolution after thinking it over carefully and I hear nothing but commendation from my people in Staten Island."

Mr. Cromwell's stand provoked comment in that he has often spoken of his friendship for Colonel Roosevelt, dating back to their boyhood days, and that his latest statement was made directly after a long conference with him.

Colonel Roosevelt is to go to Syracuse, where he will speak at the state fair.

TO ATTRACT AQUATIC FOWL

North Dakota Commissioner Would Seed Lakes With Wild Rice.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 17.—Thomas Griffiths, a member of the North Dakota state game and fish commission, spent a day in the vicinity of Bena, Minn., where he purchased 300 pounds of wild rice seed from Indians and will plant it in the lakes of North Dakota to afford protection and feed for ducks and geese. If the experiment proves successful the commission will make more extensive purchases next year and seed all the lakes which are properly located in order to attract geese and ducks not only to breed, but in their flights south as cold weather approaches. The finest duck hunting to be found in Minnesota is in the rice beds and the North Dakotans believe their lakes can be improved upon by growing the rice.

The North Dakota commission has also decided to follow the Minnesota sportsmen in introducing the ring necked pheasants and Mr. Griffiths purchased sixty of them, bred at Grafton, and they will be turned loose in the Turtle mountains, where it is believed the conditions are ideal for their propagation.

FISH LAKE WILL BE SAVED

People Raise Funds for Artesian Well
Feeder.

Plankinton, S. D., Sept. 17.—Through the personal efforts of Thomas W. Taubman and other residents of Plankinton and Aurora county, funds necessary to sink an artesian well on the shore of Fish Lake, a fine body of water some miles from Plankinton, have been raised by voluntary subscription.

The lake is well stocked with fish, but the dry season has caused the water to fall to such an extent that if something is not done the water will freeze to the bottom and all the fish will be killed. It was decided that an artesian well would not only increase the supply of water, but would keep the lake from freezing solid.

Auto Victim Sues for Big Sum.

Langdon, N. D., Sept. 17.—For injuries received a year ago when she was run down by John B. Mooney's auto, Electra Martin, a minor of Langdon, commenced suit for $15,000 damages against the machine owner, who is a banker of this place. Permanent physical injuries and charges that the accident could have been avoided are allegations made in the action.

Campaign in Minnesota.

St. Paul, Sept. 17.—The political campaign in this state will be opened by James Gray, Democratic candidate for governor, by a keynote speech at either St. Paul or Duluth next week. Governor Eberhart, the Republican candidate, will open his campaign at Mankato on Oct. 4.

The Shrew.

The shrew was originally the shrew mouse, which, when her young were helpless, would fight desperately in their defense, and so well known was the courage of this little animal, which would even go out of its way to seek an enemy at times when the nest needed protection, that the word became applied to a woman who was ever ready to seek a quarrel.

ABE ATTELL.

White, the Chicago Fighter.

ABE ATTELL DEFEATS WHITE

Featherweight Champion Outpoints
the Chicago Fighter.

Milwaukee, Sept. 17.—Abe Attell, champion featherweight, won a ten-round decision bout with Charlie White of Chicago. It was his last fight in the last two rounds which gave him the newspaper decision and until that time White had a good chance to break even with the champion.

Abe was sent against the ropes in the first round, but came back smiling and landed a hard left to White's face, followed by another to the stomach. In the second the Chicago boy recovered and there was some fast fighting, with a few good exchanges at long range. White got in a hard right and left to Abe's face in the third. It was even up at the end. The fourth was a repetition of the third. White holding his own in a way which brought cheers from the crowd. In the fifth White continued to get to Abe's face, but his blows lacked steam. Abe got in some hard punches to Charlie's face and body. The sixth round was another even break. Both boys showed down in the seventh, and there was little hard fighting.

Abe had a shade in the eighth. He landed, bringing blood to White's nose and sent in a rain of short-arm jabs to Charlie's stomach. Abe devoted his time in the ninth in getting to White's body and then sent a hard left and right to the face.

The champion did all of the fighting in the tenth and would have won the decision on this if nothing else.

MANY BIDS FOR PINE
ON MINNESOTA LANDSOffers Made for Nearly Four Hundred Million Feet.

Cass Lake, Minn., Sept. 17.—It was a busy day at the local United States land office when bids were opened for the sale of pine on the ceded Chippewa Indian reservation, amounting in all to a little over 376,000,000 feet, nearly all of which was bid for. It took the force of the local land office, assisted by Frank B. Walker of Washington and S. J. Colter of Duluth, nearly six hours to read the bids. All the bids were immediately forwarded to Washington and the successful bidders will be notified by wire from the office of the secretary of the interior.

Over 70,000,000 feet of white pine and over 300,000,000 feet of Norway were offered and the J. Neils Lumber company of Cass Lake succeeded in presenting the highest bid on about 50,000,000 feet, mostly within the Minnesota national forest adjacent to Cass Lake. This will insure the running of the local mill for a number of years.

The Thief River Falls Lumber company bid highest on about 80,000,000 feet on the Winnibigoshish reservation, usually known as Cut Foot Sioux Shevlin-Mathieu bid on 50,000,000, while the Mulvey-McDonald company of Duluth bid on 6,000,000 on the Fond du Lac reservation.

The highest bid was received from the Leech Lake Lumber company of Walker, which concern bid $14 per thousand for white pine and $12 for Norway, their bid being on 30,000,000 feet. E. A. Engler of Baudette bid highest on about 20,000,000 feet adjacent to Spooner and Baudette, on the Red Lake reservation. The Welsh Timber company of Bemidji was also a successful bidder.

The Northland Pine company of Minneapolis put in a blanket bid on everything to be sold in the national forest, averaging about $8.03 per thousand, but was beaten out by other bidders.

FIBER PREVENTS DROWNING.

Lighter Than Swansdown, but Two Pounds Float a Man.

One of the most important life saving discoveries ever made has just been tested on the Thames at London. A vegetable fiber has been found lighter in color than flax and lighter in weight than swansdown, and less than two pounds of it will save any man or woman from drowning.

All the circumstances which frequently accompany a boating disaster were reproduced at the test. Two men set out in a canoe from a houseboat in the neighborhood of Laleham. There was only one other craft on the reach at the time, a large steamer laden with passengers taking a trip upstream. The majority of them leaned over the rail and watched the canoe.

Suddenly they were horror stricken to see—what is so often a prelude to a boating tragedy—one of the young men standing up in the canoe. In a moment the gunwale was under water and the two men were overboard. Everybody expected to see them sink. They had not noticed that two white cushions had fallen in as well.

A moment later both men snatched hurriedly at the cushions, and, to the surprise of the steamer passengers, once they had seized a corner of these white cushions they were safe. The weight of the two men, and they were both fairly heavy, seemed to have no effect whatever on the cushions, which were stuffed with kapok, the new life saving fiber.

BURNS MUST PAY FOR SEAT.

London Labor Leader, Once Poor, Now
Has Big Salary.

There is a delicate dispute about John Burns, the British labor leader, at Battersea. The radicals of Battersea elected Mr. Burns to the house of commons in 1892 and paid him a salary and all election and registration expenses until 1905, when he became president of the local government board at a salary of $10,000 a year.

That salary has since been increased to $25,000, and Battersea thinks that Mr. Burns should bear the expenses of registration and the radical organization, or at least the greater part, which amounts to between $1,500 and $2,000 annually.

Hitherto the London Liberal federation has subscribed, but it has now notified the radicals that it will discontinue its subscription. The Battersea Radical association declares it will dismiss its agent and let the organization, which is one of the best in London, lapse entirely unless Mr. Burns accepts its terms.

If His Party Tenders Him the Nomination.

HE WOULD NOT DECLINE IT

But He Is Not Considering His Chances for a Second Term One Way or the Other at the Present Time—Will Devote Himself to Carrying Out as Nearly as Possible Pledges of the Platform Upon Which He Was Elected.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 17.—The publication of a story in certain newspapers purporting to come from Beverly and announcing that President Taft had decided to step aside as a presidential candidate in 1912 to make way for Colonel Roosevelt brought many inquiries to the summer capital. It was decided not to dignify the story, which is reported to be without any foundation whatever, with a statement.

It can be stated that there has been no change in President Taft's attitude toward a second term, since he told a number of friends a few months ago that he would accept a second nomination if his party desired to tender it to him.

The president, it is said, is not considering his chances for a second term one way or the other at this time. From the first he said that he would devote himself to carrying out as nearly as possible the pledges of the platform on which he was elected for a four years' term. Mr. Taft, it is pointed out, does not know how to play politics, and he has been quoted as saying that he would not do so if he could.

If, at the end of his term, his party feels he has been true to his trust and has carried out its pledges in so far as he possibly could, it no doubt would be very gratifying to the president to have his administration endorsed.

The president starts for New Haven and Cincinnati on Sunday night. Secretary Norton will join the party at New Haven. Altogether, the president will be away from Beverly two weeks.

Graham-White, the English aviator, called on the president at Burgess Point.

OLDEST POSTMASTER DEAD

North Dakotan Dies in Town That Bears His Name.

Minot, N. D., Sept. 17.—Nearly ninety years of age and having the distinction of being the oldest postmaster in the United States, Owen Hecker, the veteran after whom the town of Hecker was named, died from old age.

Owen Hecker was born in Ellentown, Pa., Aug. 30, 1821. In 1832 he removed with his family to Ohio, where in 1852 he married Miss Elizabeth Weaver at Jacksonburg, O. In 1854 he moved to Sterling, Ill.; in 1883 to Hardin county, Ia., and in 1901 came to Ward county, settling on the site of the small town that bears his name. Mr. and Mrs. Hecker were the parents of eight children. Four are living.

Mr. Hecker belongs the distinction of having been the oldest postmaster in the United States. He was first appointed under Cleveland's administration in 1894, in Hubbard county, Ia., a position he held for four years. In 1905, when the postoffice at Hecker was established, Mr. Hecker was appointed to that office. He was eighty-four years old. He held the office, working faithfully at his duties, until last December, when the office was changed to Logan.

GAVE LIQUOR TO INDIANS

Charge Made Against a South Dakota
Sheriff.

Aberdeen, S. D., Sept. 17.—George P. Perry, sheriff of Corson county, was charged before William Wallace, federal commissioner at Aberdeen, by United States Indian Officer T. E. Bents with furnishing liquor to two Indians, Martin Red Bird and Frank Sees Bear of the Standing Rock reservation, and was held to await the action of the federal court. His bail was fixed at $1,000, which he was unable to furnish. He was committed to the Brown county jail.

As told by Red Bird and Sees Bear, Perry arrested them for intoxication and then supplied them with a pint of whisky, one of beer and one of gin and five of other intoxicants. He haled them before a mock court at Moberg and "fined" them $300, which they paid. Major Belden, Indian agent, learning of the matter, notified the Indian bureau. Special Agent Bents was put on the case.

He arrested Perry between McIntosh and Morristown as the latter was attempting to escape and brought him to Aberdeen.

TACTICS OF A WARD HEELER

In another column of this issue will be found a communication from Senator Alderman in reply to the scurrilous circular issued at the eleventh hour by Ole Erickson in which he attempts to belittle the good work done by Senator Alderman during the last session of the legislature, and which has been scattered broadcast over the district. Coming at a time when it is impossible to reach the remote parts of the district with an answer to the attack makes the attempt of a desperate man in the vain endeavor to foist himself upon the people to a position which he is utterly incapable of filling all the more to be despised. The innuendos contained in the circular are of such a character that if sprung at any time during the campaign when there was sufficient time to reach the poison sown there would be no difficulty of counteracting its effect, but the wily politician under the guidance and direction of his lieutenants who are endeavoring to use Erickson to pull their chestnuts out of the fire have seen fit to use the tactics of the ward heeler instead of coming out into the open at a time when the public could be informed on the subject matter and have a chance to listen to a discussion of the facts in the case. Mr. Alderman's acts while in the state senate in regard to legislation were the result of the direct request of his constituents, the men who placed him in the position he occupied and who considered that it would be to the best interests of this community if his votes on certain matters were recorded as they were, and in all these matters he first consulted his constituents. In this city where Senator Alderman's position is well known the gutter snipe circular will have no effect unless it is to increase Senator Alderman's vote. The people have only to size up the ability of the two men to represent them in the halls of the state legislature to make up their minds as to which one is the safe man to send from the 48th district to the state senate.

ALL HUNTERS TAKE NOTICE

Don't you know that it is cheaper to rent a gun of King for the three or four times you will go hunting this fall, than it is to tie your money up in a gun. Come in and look over my line of guns for rent. Everything from a 22-rifle to a Remington automatic. There is barely anything in the hunting line that I have not got.

An Old Campaign Trick

A circular or handbill labeled "Sam Alderman's Record," has been gotten out and circulated by Bill Tourtlotte in which my record on four senate bills is attacked, and in which other attempts are made to belittle me. As a rule, I do not consider it wise to pay any attention to assaults of this kind but in this instance I believe it proper to reply, very briefly explaining my vote on the bills referred to in this circular. As to the two cent fare bill, most people in Brainerd will remember that the N. P. company had made an appropriation of something over a quarter of a million dollars for the purpose of extension and improvement to the shops in this city. A statement had been made by some of the railroad companies that the passage of this bill would necessitate the withdrawal of all appropriations for terminal improvements and extension work which included the Brainerd improvement. The people of Brainerd became anxious about the matter and feared that the proposed improvement would be abandoned, consequently the Commercial club took the matter up and passed resolutions. Business men wrote letters and I was asked on every hand to vote and govern myself in such a manner as to reflect a friendly feeling from the people of Brainerd towards the railroad company. At the time the vote was taken on this measure I thoroughly explained my position and was told by all who talked with me about the matter that my vote was just what their's would have been under the same conditions. The proposed improvement at the shops was made the following summer and I have been informed that in place of spending a quarter of a million dollars as was first contemplated, the company put in something over four hundred thousand dollars. My vote may or may not have had any influence as to these improvements but I carried out the wish of the people of my home city and I am willing to leave it to the judgment of all reasonable thinking people whether or not my vote on this bill, under such circumstances, was not justifiable.

As to the Cashman bill, when the bill was placed on its final passage it received but twenty-two out of the sixty-three votes of the senate and in the form in which it was drawn was not considered a proper measure to be enacted into law. As to the two other bills that are mentioned in this circular, to-wit: The state wide primary law, and the McColl bill, providing for election of United States senators by direct vote. I have no apology to make as to any action of mine on these two bills. Everyone knows that the bills at that time were considered strictly democratic measures and an examination of the Journal will show that party votes were taken on each of these bills.

The reference made in this circular of a "pet scheme" to reapportion the Sixth congressional district is false in every respect and is made to create prejudice against me. I am perfectly willing to have my legislative record investigated, but I would not care to have the investigation made by men so unfair as Mr. Tourtlotte and his associates. Out of the seven hundred bills voted on at each session, only four have been criticized by my pursuers. This seems quite remarkable for the man who always voted with "special interests." Some of these circulars have the name of O. P. Erickson as the author while others are unsigned. This however, cuts but little figure as it is well known that Tourtlotte and his pals are responsible for it and not Ole Erickson. These circulars were evidently printed in a non-union shop as no union label appears upon them, which is evidence of their disregard of union labor.

All through this campaign I have refrained from making any complimentary statements regarding Mr. Erickson believing that men who are candidates for offices of this character should win or lose on their merits. Both Mr. Erickson and myself have lived in Crow Wing county for nearly thirty years and I am willing to abide by the verdict which will be rendered next Tuesday.

Respectfully yours,
S. F. ALDERMAN.

POSTMASTERS ORGANIZIE

Brainerd District League of Third and Fourth Class Postmasters was Formed Friday

A. B. GRAY ELECTED PRESIDENT

League Embraces Counties of Aitkin, Crow Wing, Wadena, Hubbard and Cass

The district league of postmasters of the third and fourth class of the counties of Aitkin, Crow Wing, Wadena, Hubbard and Cass, to be known as the Brainerd District League was organized Friday at a meeting at the Commercial Club rooms called and presided over by W. S. Bartholomew, postmaster at Avon and president of the state organization. While the attendance was not as large as was hoped there was a sufficient number of postmasters present to start the ball rolling and to get the organization perfected which is the vital point. The league is organized for the betterment of the service in all branches and to help the postmasters of those classes who are underpaid and who do not receive the necessary clerk hire and other things needed to make their offices ideal, and to endeavor to have the offices placed in the classified service. It is argued, and there is merit in it, that a postmaster who is appointed by the government for the purpose of conducting the business of the office instead of by a politician for the purpose of looking after his fences after he has gotten the postmaster job, will do better work, keep his office more to the liking of the general public and in a general way round up the business in first class shape. If he knows he is going to remain in the position as long as his services are satisfactory to the department or until he resigns. These are some of the things the third and fourth class postmasters are attempting to accomplish.

The meeting yesterday was called to order and B. B. Bartlett, of Hackensack, was selected as chairman, and E. A. Wasserzieher, of Deerwood, secretary. The permanent organization was effected by electing A. B. Gray, of Aldrich, as district president, and Frank Anderson, of Emily, as secretary and treasurer. A meeting will be called at some future date at which time it is hoped to enroll the names of a majority of the postmasters of the district embraced in the territory named.

FORMAL OPENING
The New H. M. Michael Dry Goods Store Will be Formally Opened Monday Evening

The H. F. Michael company in their advertisement of today informally announce their formal opening for Monday evening. The store room and all fittings are practically completed, and in place, and for one evening they will give their store over completely to the public.

Graham's orchestra will furnish music on the first floor and a Victrola in the basement. Mr. Edwin Hopkins, of Duluth, a window trimmer with a number of years of experience, will decorate the windows for the occasion. Mr. Michael states that it will be one of the greatest style events that Brainerd has ever witnessed—that nothing will be left undone to make it all that could be asked for.

Monday night's Dispatch will give the program more in detail. It is quite probable that the store will be closed after four or five o'clock Monday afternoon until 8 o'clock, in order to make the final arrangements for the event.

An Oversight.

To impress on young children just what should and should not be done and why is among the most trying problems of parents, as evidenced by the recent experience of a West Philadelphia mother. Last Sunday she asked her small son, aged eight, to carry a chair for her from the dining room to the parlor. He started off willingly, but in the hall he tripped and fell. Amid the crash could be heard the boy giving vent to utterances that would have done credit to a pirate of ancient days. The mother was taken by surprise and was greatly shocked. She gave the boy a long and serious talk on the subject of propriety. This apparently did not make the right impression, for when she concluded the boy added to her discomfiture by exclaiming, "I am sorry I swore, mamma, but I forgot it was Sunday."—Philadelphia Record.

GOV. EBERHART IN CITY

The Governor Passed Through This Afternoon on His Way to Aitkin to Speak at Fair

Gov. A. O. Eberhart passed through the city this afternoon on his way to Aitkin where he speaks at the county fair. The governor is putting in two weeks of strenuous county fair work and spoke this morning at eleven o'clock at the Wadena fair where a large audience was assembled to hear his address. The governor is averaging two addresses a day and is setting a pace in such matters.

He stated he would not forget the Northern Development association meeting at Brainerd in December and will be in the city to deliver an address at the opening session. The governor is most courteous and unassuming. He was not in the observation car but was seated in the day coach, where many citizens of Brainerd met him and shook hands.

A NOTED LECTURER

Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane Will Lecture in Brainerd Soon

Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, the "eminent specialist in civic diseases" will lecture in the opera house in this city on Sunday night, Oct. 9th, under the joint auspices of the State Board of Health and the Federation of Women's Clubs. In order that all may hear this able and talented lady many of the churches will not hold services on this evening. Says the Nashville Banner concerning Mrs. Crane:

"The visit of Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, the noted apostle of civic improvement, at the invitation of the Centennial Club is a gratifying event that can be made a great opportunity. Mrs. Crane has made a thorough study of conditions in cities and the means and measures of improving them, and she has been wonderfully successful in promoting and affecting improvements in co-operation with public spirited people and municipal officials. She does not come as a reformer, or a scold, but as an adviser and helper, who first seeks to gain information concerning conditions here and then by counsel and suggestion to encourage well directed and systematic efforts and co-operation for betterment of the city and community. At the initial conference at the Centennial Club last night Mrs. Crane impressed thorough efficiency, and earnestness and decision, as well as by her admirable address, tact, grace and good humor. She has been given a hearty reception in Nashville and with the proper support much good must come of her visit."

SWAMPS IN SPITZBERGEN.

Swedish Geologist Finds Traces Similar to Florida Cypressess.

The same species of swamp cypresses that grows in Florida today once flourished in great profusion on Spitzbergen, says Count de Geer, the leader of a Swedish geological expedition which has just returned from an exploration trip to that bleak and ice-bound island.

The expedition found geological strata which are described by Count de Geer as one colossal herbarium in a fossilized state. They justify the assumption that in early periods the entire north polar region was one vast low lying plain covered with dense forest.

Evidences of the early vegetation now present themselves in extensive coal deposits which a newly formed company is beginning to work. It is expected that 50,000 tons of Spitzbergen coal will be shipped next year. Today no plant grows on Spitzbergen taller than an inch or two at the most.

Election of Officers

The annual meeting and election of officers of the First Methodist Episcopal church Sunday school, was held last evening at the church. There was a full meeting and the reports from the various departments of the Sunday school showed it to be in the best condition in the history of the church.

One of the features of the year's work is the gift of one hundred and twenty-five dollars by the school to the cause of home and foreign missions, while all departments show an increase. The school is to be complimented on its efficient corps of teachers and officers, particularly the superintendent, H. F. Michael, whose indefatigable labors for the welfare of the school is largely in evidence in the success it has attained.

By acclamation and a rising vote, Mr. Michael was unanimously elected to the superintendency for another year, and a determined effort is being made to get him to accept of it. The following are the officers:

Superintendent—H. F. Michael, Assistant Supt.—T. E. Nitterauer, Treasurer—Gilbert Grant, Secretary—Mildred Skauge, Librarian—Eula Michael, Organist—Kathleen Rounds.

The nomination of about 20 teachers was left to Mr. Michael. Members of the Sunday school and church are talking of enlarging the church to take care of the scholars whose members crowd the present building.

INDIGESTION GOES IN FIVE MINUTES

A Little Diapiesin Will Certainly Make Any Sufferer Here Fine

END YOUR STOMACH TROUBLE

Dyspepsia, Gas, Heartburn, Headache and Other Misery Ends Before You Realize it

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave, sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomach or indigestion in five minutes. Diapiesin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for indigestion or gastritis or any other stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion.

Some of Mr. Ousdahl's Figures

Mr. Editor:— On about June 1, 1910, there was filed with the Water and Light board a set of figures by Mr. Ousdahl showing the amount of current that was being used by the meters on the stone crusher and the Mahlum Lumber Co. From this report the board rendered their bill to the city council for current for the previous month. This was on a basis of 99 cents per hour or $9.90 per day of 10 hours. We were at this time crushing rock for 9th street north, and when the bill was presented we asked Mr. Ousdahl if it was possible that it could cost so much. He stated to the council that it was, and that his figures were absolutely correct. We allowed the bill and paid it, but before the next month came around we became satisfied Mr. Ousdahl was wrong, and as we did not feel that we ought to ask the people on 9th street to pay some $300 or $400 more than they ought for crushing the rock, even if Mr. Ousdahl did contend that he was absolutely correct, we refused to pay any more bills until we could get on a meter. The meter has now been running 47 hours and the reading last night at 6 p. m. was 350 K. W. This is about 7½ K. W. per hour, and at 5 cents per K. W. would amount to $3.75 per day instead of $9.90 per day as claimed by Mr. Ousdahl. There is no doubt but what the Mahlum power will show about the same results.

As this is a sample of the way Mr. Ousdahl figures, I would suggest that the people of Brainerd think twice before they prepare to spend $120,000.00 for a plant based upon some figures which Mr. Ousdahl says he knows is correct.

Yours respectfully, C. H. PAINE.

A LONG WASH DAY.

It Lasted a Week, but Came Only Four Times a Year.

Every one has heard of the German and Dutch method of accumulating soiled clothes and of having a wash day only two or three times a year. Not every one realizes, perhaps, that the custom was brought over to this country from Holland and that the Dutch settlers long continued its practice. In these days of the ever ready laundry it is strange to read of the laborious period which came to our New Amsterdam ancestors four times a year. Helen Emerson Smith tells about it in "Colonial Days and Ways." The custom of quarterly clothes washings was maintained notwithstanding our summer heats and the immense quantities of clothes necessary to keep up the state of cleanliness required by Dutch instincts. A New Englander who had married a citizen of New York writes in 1790 of this practice, which was undoubtedly strange to her:

"Grandmother Blum is so deep in her quarterly wash this week that she has time only to send her love." The washing was done in an out-house called the bleekery, where the water was boiled in immense kettles and all the other processes of the laundry work carried on. The work required not less than a week, frequently two weeks.

During the time preceding this cruelty hard labor the soiled clothes were accumulating in very large hamper of open basketwork. This custom originated the necessity for the great stores of linen with which every bride was provided.

"MICHAEL'S"

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"The Blue Mouse"

In "The Blue Mouse," Clyde Fitch, the author, who adapted the farce from a German version, has given the stage a new and improved chorus lady, who in spite of her roughness, is wholly irresistible. In Paulette Divine, a variety of Salome dancer, who is called "The Blue Mouse," Mr. Fitch has created a type of character that will be talked of for years. "The Blue Mouse" has been "caged" by the Messrs. Shubert and will be exhibited at the Brainerd opera house next Wednesday, Sept. 21.

For $2,000 per month Miss Divine (The Blue Mouse) consents to pose as the real wife of Augustus Rollett, secretary of the president of the Inter-State Railroad, who wants to be promoted to the post of division superintendent. The president, old Lowellyn, dearly loves pretty faces and for $2,000 "per", the "Mouse" proceeds to flirt with him and, by this means, wheedles from the Chief executive the desired promotion. This is the basis of the plot, but before the first act is over Mrs. Lowellyn the real Mrs. Rollett and her father, from out of town, and the sweetheart of "The Blue Mouse," are drawn into the trouble.

The play was originally staged and produced by Mr. Fitch. Miss Grace Merritt will be seen as the Mouse. Others in the cast are such well known players as Wilton Taylor, the railroad president; Guy D'Ennery, as Rollett, Inda Palmer, as Mrs. Lowellyn; Margaret Siegel, as Mrs. Rollett; John E. Hynes, as Wallus; Gordon Mendelsohn, as Scarsdale and twenty others.

would have been about as welcome to A. Cooper of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-racking cough that defied all remedies for years. The Attempt to Describe Its Attractions in English.
Things are not always as they seem, even in an advertisement. This truth dawned upon Robert Crawford when he was in Algiers, and he tells of the reason for his conclusion in "Reminiscences of Foreign Travel." Mr. Crawford, not being satisfied with his lodgings, procured a copy of the Journal des Etrangers and proceeded to look up a hotel.
After a patient investigation the choice seemed to lie between two. One, according to the notice, possessed "every English comfort" and had "large" as well as small apartments. The other—and I was strongly drawn to it—advised as follows:
Fir Glass House.
Full South.
Mile of large Parc.
Tramways to and from town every 10 minutes.
I found the place. To my surprise there was no conservatory or glass house of any kind and no fir trees. As I pondered over the fact the solution suddenly came to me—it was a "first class house," of course. What of the rest of the advertisement? The hotel had a southern aspect and was situated in a park. As for the tramway, that was pure fiction.

in everything but size and price. Half as big, therefore a nickel, but the same family traits in both. Made with the same care, of the same full ripe, well-cured tobacco. Not merely light (color alone doesn't count), but made with naturally mild filler as well as wrapper. When you've time to finish your smoke, choose a Robert Burns; when you haven't, don't throw away half of your cigar, but buy the Little Bobbie. Only your pocket book will know the difference. Same dealer sells both.

IMPALED BY AN ARROW.

Pinned Through the Neck to a Tree. Yet He Survived.

It was in the summer of 1850 that George Wainwright and Ben Spencer, each in charge of a train of freight wagons, were headed for the Missouri river to bring supplies back to Colorado points. The Indians were very troublesome in those days, and these two outfits always camped together for protection. One night they had arranged the camp, with the wagons forming a circle, and everybody but the guards was to be inside. Wainwright preferred to sleep in a clump of cottonwoods about a quarter of a mile off, and there he fixed himself with his negro servant as a bodyguard. Neither the camp nor Wainwright was disturbed during the night, but early the next morning while Wainwright was sitting on the ground with his back to a tree drinking his tin of coffee an arrow from an unseen foe entered his neck at the right of the jugular vein and was driven with such force as to impale the victim to the tree. The negro, believing his master was killed, ran to Spencer's camp and gave the alarm.

Spencer and some of his men rushed over to Wainwright. Instead of being dead Wainwright was not even seriously injured. Spencer cut the arrow off close to the point of entrance and then gently drew Wainwright's head forward until he was released. The victim suffered but little inconvenience from the wound, and by the time the trip was completed it was entirely healed.—Los Angeles Times.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS USE OLD DAVIS HOME.

Bathe and Collect Oysters and Crabs Near New Orleans.

The veterans of the Confederate army are housed in the home which was once the house of Jefferson Davis, on the Gulf of Mexico, not far from New Orleans, where they can see the blue expanse of water, bathe to their hearts' content and in spare moments collect oysters or catch crabs from the piers in front.

Beauvoir is an ideal spot for an old man's home. It was given to Mr. Davis by a southern woman who admired him greatly, and for many years he and his family lived there when they were not in the larger cities. It is one of the many southern homes on the Mississippi and Louisiana stretch of the Gulf of Mexico, with their shell roads in front and wide domains covered with trees behind.

It is built in the usual style of that region, with a long, wide hall extending through the middle of the house and opening on to a veranda or gallery which runs across the front. The hall is used as a living room, and off from it are bedrooms. In the yard is a guest house, where Mr. Davis entertained his friends, and a small but well stocked library is housed in a cottage which fell to the Davis family with the house.

But the estate of Beauvoir is not the only attraction the veterans enjoy, for it is situated in one of the most unique regions of the United States. This part was the home of the Arcadians who migrated there from Nova Scotia, and it is also the home of many aristocratic creoles who live there the whole year or own picturesque summer cottages, retiring to New Orleans or Mobile in the winter.

The summit of Fujiyama, Japan's holy mountain, is to be made more easily accessible to the 20,000 pilgrims who every year make a laborious ascent on foot.

The Japanese delegates who attended the international railroad congress at Berne after making a thorough examination of the various systems of Swiss mountain railways have come to the conclusion that the suspension cable car system which is operated on the Niesen mountain, in the Bernese Oberland, is best suited to the Japanese requirements.

The building of the new Fujiyama line is to be entrusted to Swiss engineering firms.
